The Friends of John Ball Payroll Giving Campaign

Dear Employer

My child/children attend John Ball Primary School, and as a parent/guardian, I am considered to be a part of John Ball Parents and Teachers Association (a registered charity no: 017014), known as The Friends of John Ball (or The Friends).

John Ball Primary School has just over 600 pupils and almost one in 4 families are considered to be on low incomes i.e. qualify for free school meals. At John Ball, our mission is "Achievement, ambition and progress for all". We believe passionately in the inclusion of all pupils regardless of their needs. So The Friends' role is vital, as we supplement additional in-school experiences, trips, one-off projects, play equipment and pastoral care to enrich all children's learning and school experience.

As we are currently unable to fundraise through school events, and as we face additional demands on school resources due to the Covid-19 crisis, The Friends of John Ball has launched a regular giving appeal to raise much-needed funds to ensure our school is as enriching, safe and fun as possible at this uncertain time.

How can you help our school?

I would like to donate £_____ per month to be deducted from my gross pay (pre-tax), via *Payroll Giving to my chosen charity, The Friends of John Ball.

I'd be grateful if you would consider further supporting my pledge by matching it from the company's corporate social responsibility funds, which could be charged against profits as a charitable donation.

Thank you for your assistance in supporting my charity of choice:

*Payroll Giving is a scheme run through HMRC, which enables employees to make simple, tax-effective donations to any UK charity through their monthly pay. As an employer you can set up a Payroll Giving Scheme free of charge. If this is not yet set up, a contract can be set up with a HMRC approved Payroll Giving Agency (PGA) via the Association of Payroll Giving Organisations (APGO) at www.apgo.org.uk.
